What is Lloyd's

Lloyd's is not an insurance company. It is a market where members join together to form syndicates to insure risks.

For airlines around the world (except USA and Russia) Lloyd's is the only available high capacity market to insure aviation risks.

Much of Lloyd's business works by subscription, where more than one syndicate takes a share of the same risk.

How it works

The majority of business written at Lloyd's is placed through brokers who facilitate the risk-transfer process between clients (policyholders) and underwriters.

Syndicates are represented by underwriters who will evaluate each risk to decide pricing and terms, underwrite the risk and handle any subsequent claims.

Aphrodite assists Airlines to develop their Risk Management Plans under ASRA® solution:

What is ASRA?

ASRA stands for Aviation Safety Risk Assessment, it's an advanced dynamic facility which provides a comprehensive END TO END risk management and quality assurance solution to airlines.

For Whom?

For Airlines with Aircraft above 20 Tons. However all Aircraft operators who care about the safety of their operation should implement the program.

The International Civil Aviation Organization (ICAO) has mandated all contracting member states to urge their operators to implement a Safety Management System.

FDM is specified as a requirement in Annex 6 of the ICAO Convention on International Civil Aviation for aircraft over 27 tones. It is recommended for aircraft over 20 tones.

This requirement was taken further by Europe through the JAR-OPS 1.037
